All.

Attached is the contact list for the Upper Animas (xls). I haven't had time to update it with Durango and La Plata County contacts, so I have also attached a word document (Stakeholders) that includes more of them.

Johanna and team:

I spoke with Willy Tookey on Friday about the Superfund tours. He graciously accepted our offer to help set up the tours and get the right players there for them. So, I guess we do have some new work to do!

The first thing we need to consider is timing and logistics and then put the other pieces in place.

Willy told me that they will be driving over and will have their own vehicles. They are looking at the week of the 9th.

I am wondering if we could have them:

Leave Durango early Monday the 9th and tour Nelson Tunnel in Creede on the 9th in the mid-morning (State and EPA reps could meet them there), then meet with local officials; then drive to Idaho Springs/CC/Golden area for the night - get up early and do the other 3 (CC/CC; Eagle; and Cal Gulch) on the 10th (and meet with the local officials); stay over night on Tues up there and head home on Weds?

Does this sound like too much? And too compressed?

The rub with this whole plan is I don't know if they want to work on Weds (it is Veteran's day - so most government officials will be off and unavailable for meetings).

Or we could do the whole plan beginning on Weds (and maybe not meet with any officials from Creede (given that it's a holiday) and have them do the tours of the 3 remaining sites on Thurs and Fri?

Thoughts?

p.s. please add anyone I may have missed.
